Israel-Syria: Sporadic exchanges of fire continue along the Israeli-Syrian border. Recent incidents in large part grow out of Israel's efforts to strengthen security immediately north of Lake Tiberias by developing and populating the area. Because it is close to the pumping station for Israel's much-disputed Jordan River diversion project, this area is a particularly sensitive one for both sides. USSR: Pravda has published an article by the chief of Soviet civil defense, Marshal Chuykov, stating that civil defense units have been set up "at all enterprises and industrial centers in cities and rural areas to prepare the population for defense" against nuclear attack. Chuykov's statement probably refers to the progress which has been made since 1962 when a program was initiated to establish such units. Pravda's publication of the announcement indicates the continuing importance the regime attaches to the civil defense program. 25X1 25X1	ງ ົ
